YOGA AND CONSCIOUSNESS BY THE RIVER

An Inspiring Start to the 'River Yoga Abhiyan' April 21, 2025

Kudiya Ghat, Gomti River – Lucknow

The banks of the Gomti River witnessed a serene yet powerful beginning on April 21, 2025, with the launch of the 'River Yoga Abhiyan' — a campaign designed to harmonize environmental consciousness with mental and physical well-being. Set against the tranquil backdrop of Kudiya Ghat, this initiative aims to bring communities closer to nature through the age-old practice of yoga, while also promoting river conservation.

This unique campaign will run every day from 6:00 AM to 8:00 AM, culminating on June 21, International Yoga Day. The focus is not only on individual well-being but also on collective responsibility towards rejuvenating our rivers and preserving our ecological heritage.

A Collaborative Effort for a Greater Cause

The 'River Yoga Abhiyan' is a collaborative initiative involving several key institutions:

- 137 Ecological Task Force (39 Gorkha Rifles)
- Lucknow Municipal Corporation
- Babasaheb Bhimrao Ambedkar University (BBAU)
- State Mission for Clean Ganga (SMCG-UP)

Kudiya Ghat

Themes and Community Engagement

To maintain momentum and expand public involvement, weekly themed events will be organized throughout the campaign duration. Some of the upcoming themes include:

- “Plastic-Free Ghats” – Encouraging zero plastic usage along the riverbanks
- “Healthy River, Healthy Life” – Emphasizing the link between clean water and public health
- “Meditation by the River” – Fostering mindfulness and spiritual connectivity with nature

These themes are intended to serve as focal points for community participation, education, and behavioral change.

Conclusion: Breathing Life into Our Rivers

The launch of the River Yoga Abhiyan marked more than just the start of a daily wellness routine — it marked the beginning of a movement. A movement where breath meets purpose, and yoga meets environmental stewardship.

The symbolic act of practicing yoga beside the Gomti River sends a powerful message: that personal peace and planetary health are deeply intertwined.

As we look forward to the coming weeks of yoga, awareness, and action, one message rings clear — reviving our rivers starts with reviving ourselves.

🙏 Let us join hands — through breath, purpose, and collective effort — to honor our rivers and our responsibility to protect them.

A REMARKABLE SUCCESS: HOW MATURED AM I?

Eiffel Club, Eldeco Green, Lucknow

“How Matured am I?” — a program that not only inspired deep self-reflection but also strengthened a positive outlook toward life. This impactful event was organized by Mr. Nirmal Kumar, Founding Director of Gyan Ganga, with special support from Mr. Shiv Garg. On this special occasion, social worker Shobhit Narain Agarwal was honored with a shawl for his inspirational contributions. This moment was not merely ceremonial, but a heartfelt tribute from society to his dedication and spirit of service.

Program Flow That Touched the Soul:

- Commencement with the sacred sounds of Shankhnaad and Gayatri Mantra
- Lighting of the Lamp, invoking positive energy
- Welcome refreshments, extending warmth and hospitality to all guests
- Open Forum and Q&A Session, where participants freely shared their thoughts and experiences
- Manthan (Introspection) and Self-Analysis, deeply resonating with every heart present

Words of Impact:

The aim of the program was not just to assess one's maturity, but to understand how well we manage our emotions, thoughts, and actions. Each activity provided a powerful opportunity for individuals to connect with and refine their inner journey.

Shobhit Narain Agarwal, while addressing the gathering, shared:

“The foundation of a true society is laid when we begin asking ourselves — how matured am I, and am I becoming an inspiration for others?”

A Glimpse of Collective Growth:

The event compelled every individual to realize that maturity does not come with age alone, but with experience — and by sharing those experiences, we can build a better society together.

Visual Memories:

Some moments don’t just get captured in photos — they reside forever in the heart. “How Matured am I?” was truly one such unforgettable experience.

Thank you to everyone who graced the occasion with their presence and positive spirit.

This journey was not just an event — it was a spark of self-inspiration, which will continue to spread positivity in society.

HONORING A HERO THROUGH SERVICE

Golden Future's Contribution to the Blood Donation Camp on Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose Jayanti

Lucknow, January 23 – Commemorating the 128th birth anniversary of Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose, the Nav Chetna Samiti organized a Blood Donation Camp at the IMRT College campus in Gomti Nagar, Lucknow. This event stood as a testament to Netaji's ideals of courage, sacrifice, and selfless service to the nation. With the enthusiastic participation of students, social workers, and community leaders, the camp was a remarkable success — collecting 42 units of blood that will contribute to saving lives in critical need.

Golden Future Trust: Leading from the Front

At the heart of this noble cause was the Golden Future Trust, known for its dedication to education, mental wellness, and community service. Trust founder Shobhit Narayan Agarwal and Dr. Anjali Gupta, a Clinical Psychologist associated with the organization, led by example. Their personal participation as blood donors infused a wave of inspiration among attendees.

Their presence was not symbolic — it was a call to action. Management students from IMRT College and local residents followed suit, embracing the spirit of giving.

“Blood donation is not just an act of service, but the greatest gift to save lives,” said Shobhit Narayan Agarwal, underlining the essence of such social engagement.

Eminent Guests and Supporters

The event was graced by several prominent dignitaries who lent their support and encouragement:

- Dr. Girish Gupta, President, Nav Chetna Samiti

- Dr. S.P. Singh, Former Vice-Chancellor, Lucknow University
- Rotarian Ajay Saxena, Community Leader
- Dr. Sunil Agarwal, Secretary, Nav Chetna Samiti

Eminent Guests and Supporters

The blood collection process was seamlessly conducted by the Department of Transfusion Medicine, SGPGI, under the guidance of Dr. Pallavi Rani. High standards of safety, hygiene, and donor care were maintained throughout the event, ensuring a smooth and professional experience for all participants.

Impact Beyond the Numbers

While 42 units of blood were collected, the real achievement was the spirit of unity and social responsibility that the event cultivated. For Golden Future Trust, the event was yet another milestone in its ongoing mission to uplift lives through selfless service and community engagement.

By standing at the intersection of youth, health, and patriotism, this initiative paid a fitting tribute to Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose — not with speeches, but with actions.

A Vision for Tomorrow

Golden Future Trust continues to forge ahead with its commitment to a healthier, more compassionate society. The success of this event reaffirms its belief that small acts of kindness can create waves of positive change.

As the nation remembered one of its bravest freedom fighters, the blood donation camp served as a living tribute — turning reverence into tangible impact.

A JOURNEY TOWARD IMPACTFUL LEADERSHIP

Empowering Youth Leadership: Shobhit Narayan Agrawal's Participation in National Award Leader Training

Date: 6th–7th February 2015 | National Training Workshop | India

Shobhit Narayan Agrawal successfully participated in the National Training Workshop for Award Leaders under the globally renowned Duke of Edinburgh's International Award (also known in India as The International Award for Young People – IAYP). The two-day intensive training was designed to equip aspiring Award Leaders with the knowledge, tools, and values necessary to mentor young individuals through personal growth, skills, and service.

Mr. Agrawal's active involvement reflected his deep commitment to youth development, social impact, and responsible leadership.

Objectives and Key Learnings of the Workshop

The training was part of a broader mission to strengthen the capacity of those working with young people and to build a structured environment for experiential learning and achievement. During the workshop, participants gained:

- In-depth understanding of the Award framework and philosophy
- Clarity on the role and responsibilities of an Award Leader

- Insights into youth engagement strategies using service, skills, physical recreation, and adventurous journey as core tools
- Hands-on sessions on mentorship, problem-solving, and leadership skills
- Exposure to best practices in managing and motivating youth through the Award journey

This training enhanced Shobhit Narayan Agrawal's ability to support and inspire young individuals on their path to personal excellence.

Recognition: Certificate of Attendance

Upon successful completion of the workshop, The International Award for Young People – India awarded Shobhit Narayan Agrawal a Certificate of Attendance, formally acknowledging his commitment, enthusiasm, and participation as a leader in youth development.

“Leadership is not about giving directions — it is about setting an example.”

This certificate stands as a symbol of his readiness to contribute meaningfully to society through youth engagement and empowerment.

Building a Vision Beyond Training

This workshop was more than a learning platform — it was a catalyst for personal transformation and social responsibility.

Shobhit Narayan Agrawal emerged from the experience with renewed purpose and a stronger understanding of the values that shape community-focused leadership.

As an active member of initiatives like the Golden Future Trust, he continues to apply his learning to inspire others and lead by example in various social domains.

A Step Toward Youth Empowerment

The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award promotes resilience, service, leadership, and achievement globally. Shobhit Narayan Agrawal exemplifies commitment as a mentor and leader, inspiring youth to engage, learn, and lead for a better future.

AN INSPIRING CONFLUENCE OF MINDS AT HILTON GARDEN INN

Counsellor Connect: Guiding Futures, Building Connections

The Counsellor Connect event, held at the prestigious Hilton Garden Inn, served as an enriching platform for experienced counselors and education professionals to come together, share meaningful insights, and foster collaborative growth. The event brought into focus the critical role of guidance in shaping the future of young minds, and emphasized the value of shared experiences and dialogue among mental health and career experts.

This thoughtfully curated event was marked by interactive sessions, panel discussions, and networking opportunities, all designed to enhance the impact and effectiveness of counseling in contemporary education.

Keynote by Mr. Shobhit Narayan Agarwal: A Vision Beyond Guidance

One of the most engaging highlights of the event was the powerful address delivered by Mr. Shobhit Narayan Agarwal, an esteemed social reformer, educationist, and mental health advocate. His thought-provoking perspectives added significant depth to the discussions around counseling strategies, emotional intelligence, and the need for holistic support systems for students in today's fast-paced world.

Mr. Agarwal spoke passionately about the importance of empathy, personalized guidance, and creating trust-based relationships with students. He emphasized that the role of a counselor goes far beyond advice — it is about mentorship, emotional resilience, and empowering young individuals to make informed, value-driven life choices.

“In a world full of information, our role as counselors is to provide direction. We don’t just answer questions — we help students discover their purpose,” he noted.

His session left a lasting impression, encouraging professionals in the room to reimagine their approach to counseling as a journey of connection, transformation, and long-term impact.

Collaboration and Growth: The Core of Counsellor Connect

The event succeeded in its core mission: to build bridges between counseling professionals, share evolving methodologies, and provide a space for mutual learning. Through open dialogue and experience-sharing, participants explored practical solutions to modern-day student challenges, ranging from academic stress to mental health and career dilemmas.

Attendees left the event with new strategies, strengthened networks, and a renewed commitment to their role as life-shapers in the education ecosystem.

SHOBHIT NARAIN AGARWAL HONORED AT RR INSTITUTIONS SEMINAR

A Thoughtful Exploration of Scientific and Cultural Legacy

Bakshi Ka Talab, Lucknow – The RR Group of Institutions, in collaboration with the Nav Varsh Chetna Samiti, organized a highly informative seminar on the scientific and historical relevance of the Indian calendar. This enlightening conference was part of the centenary celebrations of the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) and aimed to deepen public understanding of the cultural significance embedded within India's ancient calendrical systems.

The seminar brought together eminent scholars, educators, and social thinkers, creating a platform for rich dialogue on how the Indian calendar reflects not only timekeeping but also spiritual, agricultural, and social dimensions of Indian life.

FATHER'S DAY

RECEIVING THE "FATHER'S HONOUR": A MOMENT OF SERVICE AND EMOTION

Recognizing Social Service through Education

Date: 15th June 2025 | Venue: Sahkarita
Bhawan, Hazratganj, Lucknow

On the auspicious occasion of Father's Day, Shobhit Narain Agarwal was honored with the "Pita Samman" (Father's Honour) for his exceptional contribution to providing free education to underprivileged children up to Class 5 through the Golden Future Trust School. This recognition was not just a personal accolade, but a meaningful tribute to his unwavering commitment to educational service, mentorship, and community upliftment. The award represented the collective spirit of the Trust's mission to build a brighter future for every child.

More Than a Teacher: A Guardian to the Children

In his address during the ceremony, Mr. Agarwal reflected deeply on his journey. He expressed that he does not consider himself merely a teacher but rather a guardian to the children, helping them grow with knowledge, confidence, and values.

He specifically highlighted the efforts of the Trust in preparing students from Class 3 and Class 5 for NIOS (National Institute of Open Schooling) examinations, which provide these children a platform for further academic and personal advancement.

A Dignified Gathering with Special Guests

The ceremony was further enriched by the presence of Mrs. Punita Bhatnagar, Founder of CV Shilpgram, who graced the occasion as the Chief Guest. Her motivational speech emphasized the importance of value-based education and compassionate guidance, applauding the Golden Future team for its tireless efforts. Her presence added gravitas to the occasion, inspiring all attendees to continue their own journeys of service and empathy.

A Dignified Gathering with Special Guests

In an emotional moment, Shobhit Narain Agarwal shared:

“This honour is not solely mine; it belongs to every child who dares to dream, to every teacher who uplifts, and to the dedicated team of Golden Future who make this mission a reality. I dedicate this award to God, to our children, and to everyone who walks this path with us.”

Conclusion: Service as a Lifelong Commitment

The "Pita Samman" was not just a recognition — it was a celebration of father-like dedication, care, and leadership in the lives of children who might otherwise remain unseen.

Held at Sahkarita Bhawan, Hazratganj, Lucknow, this special event stood as a testament to how education, when offered with empathy, becomes a powerful force for change.

It was a day that affirmed that service to others is not an act, but a way of life — and individuals like Shobhit Narain Agarwal continue to lead the way forward.
